

Department of Physical Rehabilitation Policy and Strategic Planning
Final Exam topics for 2022-2023 academic year

- Public Health of Rehabilitation and Disability.
- Disability and rehabilitation process.
- Social determinants of health and disability.
- Environmental Contexts Shaping Disability and Health.
- The changing demographic structure and aging population; Changes in population profile.
- The changing demographic structure of the older adult population with disabilities and impairments.
- Challenges for aging and disabilities policies and programs.
- Factors impacting rehabilitation policy.
- Social trends and public policies.
- Trends in policy, social, and political influences.
- Changes within the social, political, and cultural expectations of communities.
- Policy Frameworks impacting Disability Policy.
- Social work and program planning.
- The interrelationships of health insurance and employment for people with disabilities.
- Evidence Based Policy Development.
- Approaches to evidence-based policy development, sources of evidence;
- Benchmarks used in the healthcare arena for program planning and policy development;
- Evidence and its role in policy development and community.
- Legislation Regarding Disability and Persons with Disabilities (the Americans with Disability Act, Social security act).
- Social disability insurance for children.
- Advocacy and its role in program and policy development.
- Role of Media advocacy in policy development.
- The use of media advocacy.
- Strategies for media advocacy.
- Role of advocacy groups in policy and program development.

- Coalitions and coalition building for advocacy and policy, strategies for advocacy.
- Partners for coalition entities.
- Model coalitions and their outcomes.
- Needs assesment for policy development.
- Challanges in Policy development and planning.