

Types of exam questions in the technology of galenic preparations for students of the Bachelor of Pharmacy program

1. What do we represent by Material Balance Equation?
2. List the classification of dosage forms by aggregate condition.
3. List classification by therapeutic effect type.
4. List the advantages and disadvantages of different administration routes.
5. What are the principal objectives of dosage form design?
6. What features are required to ensure product quality?
7. List dosage forms available for different administration routes.
8. List types of classification of drug dosage forms?
9. List the classification of dosage forms by aggregate condition.
10. List classification by therapeutic effect type.
11. List variations in the time of onset of action for different dosage forms.
12. List the advantages and disadvantages of different administration routes.
13. Write a material balance equation and explain each symbol's meaning.
14. How do we calculate Technological outcome (write formula)?
15. How do we calculate Technological expense (write formula)?
16. How do we calculate the Expense ratio (write formula)?
17. List and explain all kinds of material loss possibilities by their origins.
18. List GMP's main Principles.