

The Thematic Plan for the Lecture Course
The Bachelor's Program of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation
Internal Disease (V Semester)

- Symptoms of airway tract diseases: Symptomatic and diagnostic considerations;
- Pulmonary and pleural diseases: Symptomatic and diagnostic considerations;
- Means of cardio-metabolic risk factors (hypertension, hypercholesterolemia, diabetes mellitus) and atherosclerosis: Ischemic heart disease – symptomatic and diagnostic considerations;
- Rheumatic fever and related disorders: symptomatic and diagnostic considerations;
- Heart failure: symptomatic and diagnostic considerations;
- Gastrointestinal diseases;
- Principles healthy eating, nutrition and diet-therapy;
- Liver and biliary tract diseases: symptomatic and diagnostic considerations;
- Kidney and urinary tract diseases: symptomatic and diagnostic considerations;
- Acute renal failure and chronic kidney disease: diagnostic considerations

The course is consisted with 10 lecture sessions during the flowing of the semester;

The duration of each lecture session – 1 academic hour.